Buy platform ticket online delhi

Every once in a while, lottery fever sweeps the nation and everyone wants to get their hands on a potentially record-breaking lottery ticket. If buying a ticket is not easy for you for any reason, perhaps because you are homebound or not in the country at the moment, buying tickets over the internet seems like a simple solution. Is it possible to buy tickets online? Is it legal? Is it safe? The U.S. government, like most other governments around the world, strongly regulates how lottery tickets can be bought and sold because the potential for fraud is so high. American citizens only spend billions of dollars on lottery tickets each year, so it's important to make sure that the tickets are valid and that the promised prizes are actually awarded. Without this protection, we would have many more cases where tickets are sold, but when the winning numbers come, the buyer is out of luck because the ticket was forged and the seller just put out the money. Or where retailers make sure they only sell losing tickets to customers. To counter these scams, lottery retailers need to be licensed. What they need to do to get a license varies by state, but it is common for retailers to have to check a criminal background to get a license to ensure that they have not been involved in any crimes or illegal gambling schemes, and that they place a hefty bond to ensure that their tickets are awarded fairly. Now, if people can buy lottery tickets online, it opens doors for fly-by-night organizations that can take advantage of customers on a large scale and then disappear overnight when they are caught. Because of this high risk to consumers, there are laws in the United States and many other jurisdictions that restrict or prohibit online lottery sales. However, that doesn't mean it's completely illegal or impossible within the United States. There are two types of lottery laws in the United States: federal and state laws. Federal law is pretty clear that buying or selling lottery tickets by mail is illegal and punishable by fines or jail time. 18 U.S. Code § 1302 states: Who knowingly deposits in the mail, or sends or delivers by mail ... every lottery ticket ... any check, design, invoice, money, post note, or money order, for the purchase of a ticket ... is fined... or not be imprisoned for more than two years. But the internet has opened up new ways for people to buy tickets remotely. The Internet doesn't fall under the zip code, so can we just go ahead with the state laws? Not quite. For many years, a federal law that prevented online lottery sales for many years is the Interstate Wire Act of 1961, which states: Anyone engaged in the business of betting or betting knowingly uses a wire for the transfer in interstate or foreign trade of bets or bets or information that assist in placing bets or bets on a sporting event or match, or for the transfer of wire communication gives the recipient the right to receive money or credit as a result of bets or bets, or for information that assists in placing bets or bets, will be fined under this title or caught no more than two years, or both However, in December of 2011, the Department of Justice released an opinion that the Federal Wire Act specifically applies to sports betting. Their ruling stated: In a 13-page opinion, dated September 20, 2011, the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) concluded that federal Wire Act anti-gambling provisions do not waive the sale of lottery tickets over the Internet because the law prohibited only applicable to 'sporting events or matches.' This opened the doors to let states consider whether they should offer online sales for their lottery tickets. Even with federal law allowing online lottery sales, many states are reluctant to actually do so. In addition to the risks of fraud, there are other problems. For example, it is much harder to ensure that tickets are not sold to people under the legal age to buy tickets. Plus, the states risk sales tax losses from people going to a grocery store or gas station to buy a lottery ticket and end up making a few other purchases while they're there. Currently, six states offer legal online lottery purchases: GeorgiaKentuckyIllinoisMichiganNew HampshirePennsylvania In 2014, Minnesota became the first-ever state to offer lottery games online; however, a year later, they pulled out all the games and stopped selling lottery tickets online. Many of the participating countries have strict restrictions on ticket sales; for example, only allowing residents to buy tickets online. With offline sales, you have to be physically present, but you don't have to live in the state or even be an American resident. In addition, most states offer only a few games. Powerball, for example, can only be purchased online from Illinois or Georgia, while California residents can use a lottery app to buy tickets online. Powerball tickets for them. If you decide to try your hand at playing the lottery over the internet, make sure you do your due diligence before you buy tickets. Please note that residents of most United States cannot legally purchase tickets online. Watch out for websites that seem to let you buy tickets, but which actually give you the chance to bet on the outcome of the lottery draw. Don't fall for hype or for promises of lottery apps and websites. Your safest option is to go through an official state lottery website if one is available to you. Make sure you know which company you're handing over your money to and research a website thoroughly before you commit to it. Provide online course platforms a way to share their content with students in one place through video, audio, and written text. We looked at different platforms and compared them by price, features and ease of use to the six, including the best overall online course platform. Top 6 Online Course Platforms 2020 How we evaluated online course platforms When evaluating the best online course platforms, it must be intuitive, user-friendly and have a range of plans to meet different budgets. Customization is important because it allows course makers to change the visual aesthetics of the course to suit a particular brand look and feel. The ability to test a course platform via a free trial or via a free version is also useful. We evaluated the top six online course platforms based on: Price: Course platforms must have a variety of packages at multiple price points. Ease of use: We tested the front and back of each online course platform to see if it was intuitive and easy to navigate. Customization: The ability to use the aesthetics of your own brand by changing fonts, color schemes, and course features is important. Free trial or subscription: Especially for new course makers, a free trial makes it easy to test how a platform works before committing to a premium plan. User reviews: Takes into account real experiences of users who have used the platform with different industries. Thinkific is our pick for the best online course platform for solo preneurs and small businesses on a budget. It provides instant access to course sales funds, making it easier for budget-conscious course makers to manage daily cash flow. It also offers an intuitive, drag-and-drop course builder, making it easy to create an online course. It even offers a free subscription so creators can get started right away. Thinkific: Best Overall Online Course Platform Thinkific is the best online platform because of a creator's ability to get started for free and scale as their school's needs grow, which is perfect for solo preneurs with limited resources. Plan prices go up to $499 per month, although each plan provides direct access to funds from course sales and a simple drag-and-drop course builder. Thinkific Pricing Get you up for free with Thinkific's lowest tiered plan, and the highest priced plan is $499 per month. There are also enterprise options that are customized based on your needs and are priced accordingly. You also add the growth package to each Pro plan for additional features. Thinkific Tiered Features * Add on the growth plan to your Pro package starting at $10 per month and going up to $400 per month. Free Thinkific Plan The free plan allows course makers to enroll unlimited students for up to three courses. Within the course, creators can upload PDF, video and audio. They can even create quizzes and surveys, which is if you do a beta launch and need feedback to improve the course before you launch to everyone. To get started with the free subscription, you don't even need to enter your credit card information. You create up to three courses and have unlimited students enrolled. With the free plan you can also cards in one secure cash register, similar to all other subscriptions. Thinkific doesn't charge, although you may be charged if you use a third-party payment processor. The free subscription is perfect for all-new course makers on a budget. Basic Thinkific Plan For just $49 per month, you get unlimited courses and student enrollment with the Basic plan. You also have all the features in the free subscription, with the addition of email integrations, a custom domain, and the ability to offer coupons for enrollment. With this plan you also create drip content, which plans content releases over time instead of giving full access to a course in advance. This is useful in situations where you want students to pace themselves. With the ability to create a custom domain, users who don't want the Thinkific name to appear in their course's URL want to choose the Basic Thinking Plan or higher. For example, if you're using a custom domain, your course might say fitsmallbusiness.thinkific.com. With a custom domain you use a URL, such as fitsmallbusiness.com. You won't find that in the Free Thinkific Plan. Pro Thinkific Plan The Pro Thinkific Plan costs $99 per month, and with it you get all the features of the Basic and Free plan. In addition, you create assignments and have advanced course prices. For example, you'll have the option to accept payment and subscriptions. A membership makes it easy to earn recurring student income, and the option to bundle courses can potentially increase your total revenue by packing similar or complementary courses together. A membership makes it easy for a creator to share content with students on a periodic basis for a monthly fee. A course creator who wants recurring revenue must use this subscription because it creates a membership based on a subscription model. You also add the growth plan to each Pro plan. This starts at $10 per month and goes up to $400 per month, depending on how many users you have. The Add-on Growth gives you additional features, such as bulk-add students, Zapier integrations, and communities. Premier Thinkific Plan For $499 per month, you get all the features available in lower-tiered plans when you get the Premier Thinkific Plan. In addition, you will receive the onboarding package, which includes an onboarding call, training and an assessment of the preparation for the launch. Single sign-on (SSO) allows a user to sign in to your site and automatically sign up to the Thinkific course in one action. Your group analysts will also get their own account to see students' progress in courses. The Premier Thinkific Plan is suitable for a large organisation that not only has many students, but also multiple courses and The reason for this is the ability to have up to 15 analyst logs. These analysts can track the progress of each student in their group, which is easily made with downloadable progress reports. progress reports. Thinkific Is Missing There is no mobile app for Thinkific, and the website is not mobile optimized. With more people learning on the road, this is a missed opportunity to engage students no matter where they are. Moreover, Thinkific does not offer a way for European Union (EU) course makers to collect VAT from students within the platform. What users think about Thinkific Users who gave Thinkific a positive review said they love the software because it's easy to use and includes marketing, learning, web page tools, and even hosting. Some users complain about mobile incompatibility, where students are struggling with the user experience on mobile. Thinkific's intuitive drag-and-drop course editor is easy to use. Get started with Thinkific It only takes a few minutes to set up your Thinkific account. You fill out a form with your full name, email address and password. From there, you'll be asked what your experience is with creating courses, whether you're brand new, have experience, or just look at things. Instructive: Best Online Course Platform for Mobile Capability Teachable is an online course platform with more than 68,000 creators and 18 million students worldwide. Popular educational instructors include Pat Flynn, Melyssa Griffin and Peter Nowell. With the native iOS app, Teachable is perfect for creators who want students to have mobile access. Subscriptions start for free and go up to $499 per month. Instructive course makers can sign up for the free subscription, or they can sign up for a premium plan. Prices for premium plans start at $29 per month when you pay for a year of the Basic Curriculum; otherwise you pay $39 month to month. The professional curriculum is $79 per month when it is paid annually and $99 from month to month. The most expensive plan is the Business Teachable Plan, which makes $399 a month when paid annually, and $499 month to month. Processing fees are the same in each plan, and are 2.9% plus 30 cents to 4.4% plus 30 cents per transaction. Educational layered features *When paid for annually Free Curriculum The free plan allows course makers to enroll up to 10 students in unlimited courses. You get paid immediately when a user buys your course. However, you'll need to pay transaction fees and processing fees that differ from Thinkific, which don't charge any fees other than the monthly subscription fee for premium plans. Basic Curriculum For only $29 per month when paid annually, you get unlimited courses and student enrollment with the Basic Curriculum. However, if you have to pay on a monthly basis, you'll pay $39 per month for this subscription. You drip content over time, have a custom domain name, and provide coupons with the Basic Plan. With the custom domain name you can use your USE URL, rather than a teachable-branded. Professional curriculum The professional curriculum costs $79 per month when paid annually and $99 month With this plan, you get all the features of the Basic Plan. In addition, you can reward students for completing their course by giving course fulfillment certificates. For students who need more direction to complete a course, you can also enforce the course material in order, having to watch course videos before moving on, and set a minimum quiz score. Professional plans are ideal for targeted teachers who want to ensure the success of their students. This is done by tracking progress, completion and issuing certification. Business Teachable Plan You get every feature available in lower-tier subscriptions when you get the Business Teachable Plan for $399 per month when you're paid annually. Otherwise it's $499 per month when paid month to month. With this plan you create custom user roles and bulk import students; both features are worth the monthly price, if you need them. Custom user roles give different permissions to course administrators. Bulk importing students is useful when you've enrolled many people in a course at a live event or if you're migrating from another online course platform. What's instructive With the significant transaction costs, volume course sellers can prefer an online course platform like Thinkific, which has no cost per transaction. In addition, while you have a custom domain name, the limited customization options within the course make it easy to tell that it is a course that has been created with instructive. What users think about instructive users enjoy the ability to receive email support for one of the curricula, and the Professional Plan and higher offer chat support. Plus, they like the native iOS app that gives students easy access to courses on the go. International creators complain that the frequency of sales payouts is erratic compared to course makers in the U.S. Teachable makes it easy to download content for students; otherwise, teachers may mark content as not downloadable. How to get started with Teachable Sign up for Teachable includes filling out a form with your full name, email address and password. Then you can create your own online course. All it takes is a few minutes to register your account, but then you can have your course live within a weekend. Get started with Teachable today. Kajabi: Best Online Course Platform for Online Marketers Kajabi is an all-in-one online course platform that organizes your course, your blog and provides marketing tools and automation. This is best for online marketers because of the sales funnel builder and the ability to house an entire website within the platform itself. Prices start at $119 per month and up to $399 per month. Kajabi Prices Although Kajabi does not offer a free subscription, it does offer a free 28-day trial on one of its plans. Kajabi's plans start at $119 a month when you pay annually, otherwise it's $149 month to order The prices start significantly higher than other plans, such as Thinkific and Teachable, simply because you have a whole suite of marketing automation tools. You do not pay any transaction fees, which is an additional benefit for Kajabi. Growth and Pro are more comprehensive plans offered by Kajabi. Starting at $159 per month if you pay annually, or $199 month to month, growth makes far more pipelines and active members than the Basic version. Pro costs $319 per month when paid annually, or $399 month to month for Pro. Kajabi Tiered Features * When paid annually Basic Kajabi Plan At $119 per month when paid annually, you get a website and up to three products and three pipelines for your website. A pipeline is simply a sales funnel designed to guide a customer from start to finish throughout the sales process, from discovery to course delivery and beyond. You'll also get access to Hero University, a series of free courses that teach creators how to create, market, and sell digital content, which is perfect for online marketers. Kajabi Growth Plan The growth plan costs $159 per month when paid annually, and $199 month to month. With this plan you get all the features of the Basic Kajabi Plan. In addition, advanced automations make it easy to add conditions to automation. For example, you have an automation that a student adds to a particular pipeline after they complete one course. You add the condition that they were only added to that pipeline if they pass the course by a certain grade. This helps you market to your best students. You also let students and non-students partner for your courses and products with Kajabi. Plus, you remove the Kajabi branding when you use the growth plan. This helps you brand your online course to customize the rest of your products and services. This plan is ideal for advanced online marketers because of the automations. Pro Kajabi Plan In addition to all the features in the Growth Plan, the Pro Kajabi Plan gives you a code editor. This allows you to completely customize the look and feel of your membership site, landing pages, website and courses. You pay $319 to $399 per month for the Pro subscription. In addition, the Pro plan gives you access to Brendon Burchard's Experts Academy. This academy promises to show you how to become a well-paid author, speaker, coach, online trainer and social media influencer. This plan is perfect for online marketers who are ready to grow their authority and expertise. What Kajabi is missing Although it offers a free 28-day trial, Kajabi does not offer a free subscription for users. For novice online course makers, steep costs can prohibit them from using Kajabi, especially when Thinkific and Teachable offer a viable solution. It is also not about VAT (s) in the EU, which for some creators can pose a problem. What users think about Kajabi Users enjoy everything they need to run online business under one roof: sales pages, email, marketing, courses and even a blog. However, some users complain about how Kajabi does not offer student completion certificates, which can give students an incentive to complete a course. Creators can use an integration like Zapier to connect other products to Kajabi for extended functionality. Source: Zapier How to Get Started With Kajabi You must create a Kajabi account by providing your full name, email address, password and credit card details. You also need to enter a phone number. Within a few minutes you get started creating your online course. Start your 28-day Kajabi trial today. There is no free option, although you can take a test drive, give you a free subscription for 14 days. The Mover plan costs $39 per month, but you get two months free if you pay for a year. Similarly, the Shaker plan is $79 per month, and you also get two months free when you pay a year. Stages Tiered Features *When paid annually Mover Stages Plan The Mover plan lets creators create an unlimited number of products and courses, and there is no limit to the number of students enrolled. No transaction fees are charged that differ from Teachable. You also get 24/7 support, so if you have problems, you'll have 24-hour help to fix them. The Mover plan costs $39 a month, but if you pay for a year you get two months free. This option is ideal for new online course makers. You test this plan with a free trial of 14 days. Shaker Stages Plan For $79 a Month, you purchase the Shaker Stages Plan. If you pay for a year, you get two months for free. In the Shaker plan you get everything included in the Mover Plan. In addition to the Mover Podia features you are now creating memberships, which is a great way to generate recurring revenue. You use another online course platform, Podia will migrate your course for free. If you have a blog or website, you embed buy buttons with this subscription and users never have to leave the page to make the purchase. The affiliate marketing feature you have your own sales team because you use a unique URL for promoters of your course. Every time they make a sale of your course, you give them a percentage of sales. In addition, you can install third-party code, such as a that makes it easier to run Retargeting Facebook ads for people who don't make a purchase on their first visit to your site or The Shaker plan is for advanced or highly motivated online course makers. What Stages Is Missing Podia does not offer a free plan like Thinkific and Teachable, but you get a free trial. There is also a lack of robust analytics for your course sales. What users think about venue reviews of venues are overwhelmingly positive, and only mention features they want to have in addition to everything that has already been offered. Some users mentioned how they really enjoy how easy to use Stages is, but would prefer to have additional analyses for course sales. Another user mentioned desire coupons that expire (an example is that you should use this coupon within 24 hours). Stages are intuitive and user-friendly. You'll see the name of your course that mentions where we've called our 'Test Online Course'. How to get started with Stages You don't need a credit card when signing up at Podia because it offers a 14-day free trial. To sign up for the trial, fill out a form with your name, email address, and password. After you sign up, you'll have a quick survey asking if it's your first time selling online and if you already have a product in mind. This will help tailor your experience with Stages. LearnWorlds: Best Online Course Platform for Social Learning LearnWorlds enables creators to create online courses that are fully customizable to your brand's aesthetics. It provides a built-in social network for students, making it easy for students to master together. All this happens without plugins or encryption. Start with a 30-day trial and pay $24 to $299 and more per month. LearnWorlds Prices There are four subscriptions available with LearnWorlds. The Starter plan is $29 per month, otherwise $24 per month when paid annually. Pro Trainer is $99 per month, but $79 when you pay for a year. Learning Center is paid $299 per month, or $249 per month annually. The High Volume & Corporate plan has adjusted prices. Each subscription offers basic features such as unlimited courses, a video library, lead generation, a built-in community, and ready-made templates. You'll also get access to student profiles and analytics to monitor a student's activities and performance. LearnWorlds Tiered Features *When you are paid annually Starter LearnWorlds Plan The Starter plan charges $5 per course sale in transaction fees and costs $29 per month, or $24 per month when you pay annually. With this subscription you get unlimited courses, coupons, bundles, upsells and a built-in social network. In this way, students can learn and grow together without ever leaving the course platform. The Starter subscription is ideal for a novice course maker. If your online course a low ticket, you probably want an option with no transaction fee. Plans without transaction fees include Pro Trainer, Learning Center and High Volume & Corporate LearnWorlds subscriptions. Pro Trainer LearnWorlds Plan No transaction fees have been charged with the Pro Trainer Plan, Trainer Plan, The Starter plan has a fee of $5 per course sale. You pay $99 month to month, or $79 per month if you pay annually. Choose this subscription if you want recurring revenue, because while you enjoy all the features in the Starter plan, you'll also get access to memberships and recurring revenue subscriptions. You also have access to affiliate management, so your students can earn a commission to refer others to your course. Learning Center LearnWorlds Plan Learning Center plans allow you to label your online course completely white. White labeling removes any LearnWorlds branding, so students have no idea they're on a LearnWorlds online course platform. This subscription costs $299 month to month, or $249 per month when you pay annually. If you have a large amount of content and a large following, this plan is best for you because you keep your own personal branding. Only this plan and the bespoke High Volume & Corporate LearnWorlds plan have white-label branding. High Volume & Corporate LearnWorlds Plan If you sell a large number of courses, or you are a company, you want the bespoke High Volume & Corporate plan. To get the prices for your custom subscription and sign up, you need to call LearnWorlds directly. Custom features include premium cloud servers, a dedicated account manager, custom reports and services, and customized pricing options. No other plan offers customization like this. What LearnWorlds is missing Although there is a 30-day free trial, LearnWorlds does not offer a free subscription. Similar to Podia, each plan offers comprehensive features, and a free plan could give LearnWorlds a chance to help board a brand new course maker until they are ready for a paid plan. What learnworlds users like about how attractive their courses are in LearnWorlds, plus the detailed analytics make it easy to help students who are struggling to see success. Some course makers find that there is a small learning curve when it comes to using LearnWorlds because of how much you do with the platform. The LearnWorlds dashboard is very extensive. Get started with LearnWorlds You don't need to enter credit card information to start your free 30-day trial with LearnWorlds. You fill out a short form with your name, email address and password. From there you have to make the name of your school, but this is something you change later when you make that decision. LearnDash: Best online course platform for WordPress users As a WordPress plug-in, LearnDash acts as an extension of your site, allowing you to create an online course without leaving your website. You'll need some technical know-how to control LearnDash, but there are options such as drip content, an online forum and Panel reporting. The cost ranges from $199 to $369 per month. Value Added For the price of LearnDash You pay for a lifetime subscription to LearnDash or pay one year at a time. If you buy the Lifetime subscription, you will also receive lifetime support and and Other plans include the Pro plan which is $369 per month, billed annually. You also use the Plus plan which is $229 per month, which is billed annually. Otherwise, the Basic Plan is $199 per month, billed annually. LearnDash Tiered Features *Each plan is billed annually LearnDash features Each of the four LearnDash plans offers the same features. The difference between plans is the number of sites with which you use your plug-in. For example, if you're a client course developer, you might prefer the Lifetime plan because you use this plan for 100 different sites. In addition, you'll get lifetime support and updates with that subscription. Unlimited courses & users You create as many courses as you want. In addition, you have as many users as you want, regardless of the package you choose. Drip Content Sometimes students want to rush with content or skip around. This doesn't always create the best learning experience for a student. You plan classes to become available on a specific date, or as many days after a user has enrolled. Course Forum Students can learn from each other and get clarification on certain topics through a course forum. These forums are private and also show a course maker where content needs extra work. Pro Panel Reporting If you go for the Plus subscription or higher, you'll get access to Pro Panel, a dashboard that displays live student activity and enables email features. If you only have one WordPress site, you'll need to decide if you want the Pro Panel report, because you'll need to upgrade to the Plus plan to get it. If it's not important that you follow the course's progress and quiz results and you only have one site, you only need the Basic Plan. What LearnDash lacks LearnDash does not have a free trial, nor does it offer a free subscription. This means that you have to commit to the plug-in without trying its features. This may reject new course makers in favor of plans such as Thinkific or Teachable, which either offer a free trial or plan. However, it does offer a refund if you are not satisfied after 30 days. What users think about LearnDash Course creators like that allows you to reuse lessons in other courses without re-uploading the content to the next course when using LearnDash. Users also enjoy how it's easy to use, but say it can take time to get a course ready to go live because its development is more methodical. An example of an Infusionsoft course that LearnDash uses. Source: LearnDash How to Get Started With LearnDash Since LearnDash is a WordPress plug-in, you'll need to download the zip file with the plug-in after you pay for it. Once that's done, upload it to your plug-in dashboard in WordPress. Go today get started with LearnDash. Visit LearnDash Bottom Line: Best Online Course Platforms An online course platform is a way for course makers to teach students about their expertise in a digital platform.
